Personal Profile

MSc in International Business with over 10 years' operations and facilities management experience in high end banking sector. However, I have always had a keen interest in technology and computers, hence, I decided to dive in the world of Software Development, something that I am truly passionate about.

Recently graduated from a Software Development Bootcamp where I worked on a considerable number of projects using web technology (HTML/CSS/Bootstrap) and programming languages such JavaScript and Python. These experiences have enabled me to gain expertise on front-end and back-end development.

I am seeking an opportunity to work as a Junior Developer in a challenging environment to learn and gain more experience and further my career in this field.
